

In May Skanda features AQUAMARINE as “Stone of the Month”.

RARE GEMSTONES
& UNIQUE FINDINGS

Aquamarine is the stone of courage. It encourages the ability to always be prepared. In the middle ages it was believed that wearing Aquamarine could provide the strength to overcome any weakness and protect in battle. There is an ordered flow to the energy of aquamarine. It emits a calming, compassionate, gentleness that can aid in the desire to bring service to the world. Aquamarine is attuned to healing and helps to align the chakras and balance the network of structures connecting physical and etheric bodies. The throat chakra in particular is stimulated and activated by aquamarine allowing for clear, high quality communication of important matters.

Aquamarine is a symbol of happiness and youth. It strengthens optimism and self expression. It helps alleviate unnatural fears and has an affinity with sensitive people.

Aquamarine evokes tolerance in others and breaks down judgementalism. It helps to let go of old self defeating patterns and create a personality that is upright and impeccable.
